

How to check SIA licence cards

The SIA Licence card has several security features that are quick and easy to check. You need to use a UV light for one of these.

What to look for on the front of a licence card

Name is raised

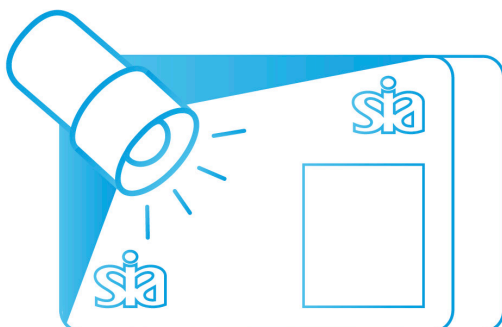

The licence holder's name is embossed on the card, not printed on.

You should be able to run your finger over the name and feel that it is raised.

Hologram

You should be able to see a hologram when you tilt the licence card backward and forward.

SIA logos

What to look for on the back of a licence card

Bar code

On the back of the licence card there is a bar code in the top-left corner.

The bar code should bring up the same licence number as shown on the front.

Post code

The address on the back of the licence card should show the following post code:

E14 1UG
